

Deadline for submission to Instruct a 2023 Fall GVR Class is
June 15, 2023

Do you have an urge to share your skills and talents with others? Do you have an idea for a project that you'd like to teach others? Why not sign up to be an instructor to teach a GVR Class? GVR Class Instructors receive payment for their time teaching. If you have a skill such as pot throwing, sculpture, hand building, molds or other ideas, now is the time to become an instructor and offer a GVR class for this fall. The Education Committee is taking applications for GVR Classes.

Applications are found on the Clay Studio Webpage under: Contact—Education-Class, Workshop, Studio Request Forms. Please fill out the GVR fill-in PDF form and follow the instructions on the website. Applications are due back to the Education Committee by June 15, 2023. GVR classes and instructors require approval by the Education Committee and the Clay Studio Board of Directors. Approved GVR classes will be submitted to GVR for inclusion in the GVR Course Catalog for Fall, 2023.

If you have any further questions and ideas, contact Al Koss, Education Committee Chair, at pioinfoal@gmail.com
